BLOOD BANK CALLS FOR 200 DONORS MONDAY, APRIL 16

The Red Cross Blood Bank and local volunteers will set up facilities at the Veterans Memorial Building in Niles for the convenience of local donors next Monday, April 16. Appointments may be made for the hours from 9:45 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The monthly blood banks held in Niles are equipped to handle two hundred donors. So far they have not been taxed to capacity. All citizens who are in a position to do so are urged to make appointments with their local chairmen, whose names are listed in the adjoining column.

NEED FOR TYPE O STRESSED

Mrs. W. L. McWhirter, R.N., chairman of the Red Cross blood donor program for Washington Township stresses the need at this time for type O blood, but does not wish by the urgency of this plea to minimize the need for all other types as well. In urging local residents to avail themselves of this opportunity for patriotic service, Mrs. McWhirter points out:

"Our young men are not in Korea because they want to be but because we, their government, have sent them. Can we do less than make this small effort to safeguard their young lives?"

WORKERS PRAISED

Chairman McWhirter, voicing the sentiments of township residents, is loud in her praise of the volunteer workers who, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Allan Walton, R.N., have worked so efficiently to make a success of these monthly blood banks since their inception in Niles in January of this year.

Graduate nurses of the township who have assisted are: Mmes. Ethel Grau, John Krueger, Dan Quartaroli, Lee Williams, W. A. Fassnacht, Alvin Searles, George King, Florence Myrick, James Logan, and Mrs. Jack DeLuce, nurses aide.

The motor corps includes Mmes. Peter Quartaroli, Irene Kibby, Nellie Talley, Ann Rose, Elsie Amaral, Betty Broun, Dora Mae Scudder, Mary Fields, Margaret Crane and Miss Harriet Dias.

Canteen workers, under the direction of Mrs. A. E. Alameda, include: Mmes. Warren Gravestock, Marian McGowan, Ted Logan, Thomas Power, Estelle Hirsch, A. F. Anderson, Isabel Rigmaiden, Margaret Dassell, Bernie Joseph, John Svoboda, William Clark, E. E. Dias, George Bonde, Lyle Buehler, Howard Overacker, John Whipple, Charles Burtch and Ralph Goodwin.

Gray Ladies, Mrs. Ray Moser, Mrs. R. J. Calhoun, Mrs. J. M. Stevenson and Mrs. Marston Dassell are Red Cross staff aides who help with the program.

REVISITING SWEDEN

Mrs. Dagny Andersen of Niles has been visiting friends in New York and today will sail on the Gripsholm for a three months' stay in Sweden where she will visit with her mother and family.

LOCAL FLYER HOME AFTER 65 MISSIONS

Ensign Roland Bendel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Bendel of Niles, was home from Korea this week after flying 65 missions against the North Koreans during the past eight months. This information was released to The Register by the Air Force Commander of the U. S. Pacific Fleet.

Ensign Bendel flew a Corsair fighter in Squadron 114 of Carrier Air Group 11, which set six records in the Korean conflict.

The Group has just completed a nine-month tour of duty in the Far East aboard the aircraft carrier USS Philippine Sea.

Among the Air Group's record tally is claim to the first enemy MIG jet-fighter shot down in Korea. Lt. Cmdr. Tom Amen, commanding officer of Fighter Squadron 111 scored the victory November 9, 1950, over Sinuiju.

Her other records include: more sorties flown than any other group; more ordnance equipment dropped on the enemy; an average of 80 strikes per pilot; and 23,107 hours in the air—a record unsurpassed in the Navy's strikes against the Communists.

Ens. Bendel, a graduate of the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., was designated a Naval Aviator in January, 1950. He has been awarded five air medals and the distinguished flying cross for participation in the Korean campaign.

MILLION AND HALF PAID NEEDY HERE

Aid payments to the needy in California will cost about a third of a billion dollars this year, even if the total aid bill is held to the February, 1951, level, California Taxpayers' Association warned today.

Total aid paid under the four public assistance programs in the state amounted to $27,469,384 for the single month of February, 1951, the association reported.

In Alameda County, aid paid during February reached $1,525,632, with $595,434 in federal funds, $663,225 in state funds, and $266,973 in county funds.

The $1,525,632 payments for aid in the county went $1,017,496 for aid to the aged, $44,125 for aid to the needy blind, $7,225 for aid to the partially self-supporting blind, $354,394 for aid to needy children, and $102,392 for general home relief.

SURVEYOR TO DISCUSS DRAINAGE WITH CHAMBER

At the next meeting of the Newark Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday at the Newark Youth Center, Wallace Boggs, county surveyor, and several of his staff will be present to discuss drainage problems with the members.

MILK TRUCK KILLS NEWARK BOY, 2, PLAYING IN STREET

A 2-year-old Newark boy was run over and killed yesterday noon while playing on his tricycle in the street near his home.

The youngster, Mark Anthony Santos, son of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Santos of 2441 George Street, apparently rode his tricycle in front of a milk truck, which was stopped while the driver was making a delivery.

The driver of the truck, Lewis A. Sessa of San Lorenzo, told investigating officers that he got back into the truck and started to drive on without having seen the child, who apparently was close in front of the vehicle.

A woman nearby screamed as she saw the truck run over the boy. Immediately the driver stopped.

According to physician's report, death was instantaneous. The accident happened about a block from the boy's home.

Both the father and mother of the child are well known in Washington Township, where they have lived for many years. They have another son, Richard, who is 4 years old. The father is a Newark dairyman.

Funeral services, to be held at the Chapel of the Palms in Centerville, are pending.

CENTERVILLE BOY IS BEST SPEAKER

LeRoy Broun, son of Mr. and LeRoy Broun of Centerville, last Thursday won the regional championship in this year's public speaking contest at a dinner meeting at the International Kitchen.

The Washington High student defeated student speakers from Pleasanton, Hayward and Castro Valley. His victory entitles him to compete with other bay area zone winners. Subject of the talks was "American Voters' Responsibilities."

Broun, a member of the Senior class at Washington Union High School, has been an outstanding student in many fields. He is a member of the honor society, C.S.F.; has been a member of the band all four years; is on the staff of the school paper, the Hatchet; and is a letterman on the junior varsity football squad.

TOWNSHIP MEN EARN P. G. & E. BADGES

Peter D. Juhl of Niles and Charles Burtch of Newark were awarded 25-year badges at a dinner given by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company April 11, in honor of 409 employees in the company's East Bay division who have completed five, ten or more years' service. Five-year badges were awarded to four other employees from Washington Township.

The dinner signalized P. G. & E.'s pride in the exceptional tenure record of its 16,694 employees, 48 per cent of whom now have served for at least five years and 23 per cent for 20 years or more, according to W. H. Park, division manager.

"This stability of employment is an indication that our employees like their job," Mr. Park said. "It is good for the communities in which our employees make their homes, for they contribute much to civic life, and it helps the company maintain high standards of service to its customers. throughout Central and Northern California."

LOCAL CHAMBERS PLAN FAIR EXHIBITS

Washington Township Day at the Alameda County Fair has been set for July 7, it was announced Tuesday at the Niles Chamber of Commerce by Secretary Vernon Ellsworth.

Each Chamber of Commerce in the county has been asked to supply exhibits of six local products, which must be furnished by June 1. This year's fair in Pleasanton will open June 27.

WHAT'S DIFFERENT ABOUT A-BOMBS?

By Maj. Gen. Walter M. Robinson, USA (Ret.), California Director of Civil Defense

What's different about A-bombs?

The atom bomb is just another way to cause an explosion. While it holds more death and destruction than ever before concentrated, its total power is still difinitely limited.

Like fire bombs and other high explosives, A-bombs cause death and destruction by heat and blast.

Radioactivity is the only way—besides size—in which A-bombs differ from ordinary bombs.

In a devastated area, the immediate cause of death is only of academic interest. Any one of three factors is sufficient.

Many casualties are caused by flying debris—glass, parts of buildings, etc.—and fire.

Injuries due to radioactivity are the same as those caused by exposure of the entire body to x-rays—destruction of so many cells and tissues that survival is impossible.

DUAL CELEBRATION FOR DE GUADALUPE

De Guadalupe Institute No. 74, Young Ladies Institute, will hold a dual celebration in Boliba Hall, Niles, on Thursday evening, April 19. The 35th anniversary of their founding will be commemorated and they will also welcome Mrs. Viola Dias, district deputy of District No. 3. Mrs. Dias, a member and past president of De Guadalupe, will pay her official visit to De Guadalupe on that evening.

President Ruth Silva has appointed the following committees: Madeline Santos, general chairman; Inez Silva, program; Laura A. Mayer, refreshments; Mrs. Wyni Enos, gifts; and Mrs. Santos, decorations, favors and invitations. She will be assisted by the Past Presidents Club.

A class of candidates will be initiated under direction of Mrs. Ruth Silva, assisted by her corps of officers.

The following program will be presented preceding the meeting: Vocal solos, Matt Whitfield Jr. of Centerville, accompanied by Mrs. Inez Silva; accordion selections, "Hank" Brown of Centerville; dance numbers by Karen and Peggy Chrysler of Niles, accompanied by Mrs. Walter Chrysler.

LOCAL GROWER HARVESTS LARGE CAULIFLOWER HEAD

Of course the best vegetables are grown in Washington Township. Everybody knows that.

PARKING TEMPEST IN CENTERVILLE IS COMPROMISED

The tempest in Centerville which has had residents seeing red—that is, red parking zones—for several weeks may, or may not, have resolved itself somewhat at the public meeting held at the Justice Court Monday evening.

The livest current issue in the community, a great many words have generated in the past few weeks about whether Peerless Stages should be able to preempt approximately 160 feet of curb space for loading and discharging passengers. Some merchants have felt that a great many customers' cars could use that space. Others have disagreed.

But it was fairly decided at Monday's meeting that everybody would be fairly happy—at least for a while—if half the red paint were to be scraped off so that the buses would be allowed but 35 feet on one side of the street and 40 on the other—a total of 75 feet.

Vice-President B. A. Perry of Peerless Stages, who attended the meeting, seemed at first bewildered by the heated issue. But his attitude turned cooperative and he agreed that the bus company would try to work with the merchants.

At one point, the meeting moved from the Justice Court down Main Street so that everyone could observe the exact amount of curb space which is now painted red for the buses. Then back to the court room, where it was voted to ask the board of supervisors to decrease the length of the zones and move the 8-foot cross-walk area to coincide with the new red zone area to further conserve customer-parking space.

LABOR OFFICE SEEKS HELP FOR FARMERS

Announcing removal of the Centerville Farm Labor office to its summer quarters, W. W. Allan, farm placement officer for the California Department of Employment, today asked experienced fruit thinners and experienced caterpillar operators to register for work at the new location.

Thinning of the Southern Alameda County apricot crop, to begin on a small scale shortly, will employ several hundred men at peak, he stated. Work will continue for about a month, unless unfavorable weather conditions cut down the fruit set and reduce the volume of thinning required.

A limited number of jobs are now open for men experienced in crawler-type tractor operation, particularly in orchard cultivation, Allan stated, and this demand is expected to continue active throughout the season.

Men experienced in either thinning or crawler-tractor work should register at the new office, 145 North Main Street, Centerville, on Highway 17, or at the Department of Employment office, 679 Watkins Street, Hayward. Growers seeking any type of farm labor may call at either of these offices, or may telephone Centerville 8-8939 or LUcerne 1-7211 in Hayward.

The Centerville office opened last May as a seasonal branch of the Hayward office, Allan stated, but continued operation throughout the year when experience showed that demand for farm labor in the area was heavy. From mid-May through December, more than 7,000 were sent out to farm jobs.

During the winter months the office was housed in a trailer, set up on Highway 17. Bob Martin of the Hayward office staff will operate the Centerville branch, as last year.

FOLK DANCE CLASS TO END

Folk dance classes at the Irvington Elementary School will close with the April 26 session. Members of this class who wish to continue may do so by joining the Alvarado group on Tuesday evenings. Mrs. Frances Mara is the instructor of these classes which are held at the Alvarado school.

ROAD SURFACING OF SEWER ANNEX STARTS MONDAY

Resurfacing and repairing of roads and streets southeast of Niles torn up last fall and winter by sewer installation apparently will start Monday, according to advice received by the directors of the Union Sanitary District, meeting Wednesday evening.

The P. & J. Artukovich Co., which left monumental holes and sumps in the wake of their sewer-pipe laying, told the board that it had engaged the Castro Valley Rock Company to repair the roads.

Contract of the sanitary district with the Artukovich company called for completion of all work on the $88,000 project by November 1, according to George Coit, president of the Union Sanitary District.

A penalty clause in the agreement charges the contractor $50 per day for willful delay of completion.

However, legal steps necessary to collect on such a penalty clause arouse some doubt as to probability of enforcement.

At Wednesday's meeting the sanitary board accepted the annexation of two parcels of property to the district. Five acres near the Western Pacific depot, owned by James Nunes, were annexed, as were ten acres in Canyon Heights owned by Esther Stenhammer.

The board received a petition from Joe Pastroni of Morrison Avenue which asks annexation of five acres. Engineer Harry Goodridge was instructed to define the boundaries of the area so that annexation steps may proceed.

MISSION CHAMBER ELECTS M. MARKS

By LOIS BOTTENBERG

A lively crowd met and began to make preparations for the formation of a Chamber of Commerce organization April 4 at the Mission San Jose school. Maurice Marks presided over the meeting, at which by-laws were presented. They were accepted and the Mission San Jose Chamber of Commerce was established.

Directors elected were Michael Overacker, Maurice Marks, Herman Medeiros, Jake Koelsch, John Amaral, Joe Semas, Gene Olwell, Frank Vargas and Lois Bottenberg.

Officers elected were: president, Maurice Marks; vice-president, Joe Semas; secretary-treasurer, Jake Koelsch.

Herman Medeiros was chosen safety chairman, Mike Overacker zoning; Nathan Click, program; Leon Dennie, youth organization; Lois Bottenberg, membership; Dot Click, Tony Souza, Mike Overacker, Manuel Fontes, Eddie Santos, Dot Koelsch, Beverly Medeiros and Kathleen Amaral were appointed to work on the membership committee.

Both husbands and wives are invited to join the organization, which has 30 charter members.

Three representatives to serve as delegates to the Washington Township Chamber of Commerce were appointed: Joe Semas, Jake Koelsch and Mike Overacker.

LOCAL SERVICEMAN GETS ADVANCEMENT

Howard C. Hallford, airman, U.S.N., son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Hallford of Fremont Avenue, recently was graduated from the Aviation Electronics Technicians Electronicsman School, Naval Air Technical Training Center, Memphis, Tenn.

Hallford entered the Naval service July 6, 1949, and received his recruit training at the U. S. Naval Training Center at San Diego.

Decoto voters gave their approval Tuesday to a program which involves the issuance of $100,000 in school bonds and the acceptance of a loan of $700,000 in state funds, as well as an increase in the school district tax rate.

On the issue of increasing the tax rate from 95 cents to $1.50, the vote was 134 for and 38 against. The proposition to issue $100,000 in bonds passed 143 to 34. And the vote on the acceptance of $700,000 in state funds passed 136 to 41.

Of the bonds authorized at Tuesday's election, only $63,000 will be issued in the near future, according to plans of the school trustees.

Faced with the most critical needs of all the school districts of Washington Township, the Decoto District last year completed construction of the new Bernard School.

Barely had this been finished, to relieve a situation of severe overcrowding, when the new situation of the children of 608 families which will occupy Tareyton Village developed.

The $700,000 voted this week by Decoto residents will take care of costs of a third unit in the district, and the increased tax rate is expected to relieve the pressure of increased costs of school operation.

GUESS WHERE ENDS WITH ONE WINNER

The Register's "Guess Where" mystery picture contest closed last Friday with the publication of the last in a series of thirty uncaptioned pictures which have inspired much argument, guesswork and frantic phoning on the part of the Township residents.

The Register staff no longer needs brace itself for the Friday morning barrage of telephone calls of contestants eager to hit the 9 o'clock deadline with the correct identification of the week. It's all over and Friday will be just another day.

A. B. Rogers of Niles was the only prize-winner last week, calling at 9 promptly with the right answer. Nine others guessed correctly that the picture showed the fence behind the home plate of the high school baseball diamond. One guessed wrong—but we won't tell.

Contestants getting the right answer, in the order their calls were tabulated are: A. B. Rogers, Niles; Lorrene Miller, Niles; Albert Perez, Niles; Manuel Guardanapo, Irvington; Mary Maciel, Newark; Mrs. Russell Ross, Newark; Mrs. Louella Frick, Irvington; Pat Guerra, Decoto, and William Chivers, Niles.

The Register thanks its readers for their participation and hopes that they have enjoyed it as much as we have.

YOUNG PRESBYTERIAN PASTOR ORDAINED IN IMPRESSIVE RITES AT CENTERVILLE

By HELEN MOORE

Last Sunday marked another new step in the history of the Centerville Presbyterian Church, for it culminated the efforts of Howard N. Steward to reach a hard-won victory, that of becoming an ordained minister. The ordination service was held in the church at 4 p.m., April 8, before approximately 200 guests.

One of the highlights of the service was the attendance and participation in the ordination by Rev. Clifford F. Jones, pastor of Michelinda Presbyterian Church, Pasadena. It was through this man's efforts as pastor of Rev. Howard Steward's home church that the young man was led toward what is to be his life's work.

Other participating members of the Presbytery in the ordination and installation were Moderator Raymond L. Hanson, Presbytery of San Francisco; Rev. John M. Peffers, pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Newark; Rev. Francis L. Bouquet, professor of English Bible, San Francisco Theological Seminary; Rev. Lester F. Eisel, business manager, Presbytery of San Francisco; and Rev. Henry B. Adams, instructor in public speaking, Theological Seminary in San Anselmo.

Special music was furnished by the church choir, Dwight Thornburg directing.

Rev. Howard Steward's honored guests were: his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Steward of Bellflower; his sisters, Doris and Hazel Jean Stevens; Mrs. Anna Chesworth, of Fullerton; Mr. Don Easton, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Brainard and Mr. and Mrs. David Walker.

Rev. Howard Steward has received a call from the Centerville Church to be its pastor for the coming year. His ordination now takes him from the role of a student to the life of a full-time pastor.

He was born and educated in Southern California, attending College of Pacific at Stockton for two years. He received his A.B. at Pepperdine College in Los Angeles.

Rev. Steward enlisted in the Army in 1942 and served two years.

He will move to Centerville and take up residence in the new manse which is nearly completed. Pending its completion, he will finish his education at San Francisco Theological Seminary at San Anselmo on May 10, where he will graduate with a Bachelor of Divinity degree.

His family, Mrs. Ruth Steward, and daughters, Jeanette, 4 years old, and Rebecca Ann, 6 months, are looking forward to their new home in our community.

CENTERVILLE SCHOOL

VISIT DENTAL COLLEGE

The eighth grade class visited the University of California Dental College in San Francisco on Monday, April 2. The tour was arranged by Mrs. March Fong, dental supervisor for Alameda County. The class was accompanied by Principal Tom Maloney. The students had their teeth cleaned, examined, and instruction was given on the proper brushing of teeth. A motion picture on good eating habits was also shown. A follow-up on the examination will result in the students being encouraged to visit their own dentists for any corrective work to be done.

MUSIC FESTIVAL

Mr. Lee Lykins, music director for Alameda County, assisted the school orchestra in their practice on Monday afternoons, April 2 and 9.

Warm Springs, Niles and Centerville school orchestras will practice in the Centerville school auditorium this morning at 9:30.

The Centerville orchestra is directed by Miss Margaret Wiles and Mrs. Doris Graves, with Mrs. Eugenie Freeman assisting with violins.

Mrs. Madeline Bartch and Mr. Lee Lykins, directors of music for Alameda County, visited choral practice on Tuesday, April 3.

Warm Springs, Niles and Centerville choral groups held a rehearsal in the Niles School auditorium on Tuesday morning, April 6.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS TO INDUCT LOCAL MEN

The Knights of Pythias, Lodge No. 170, will escort William Hildebrand to the lodge halls of the Alameda K. P.'s tonight (Friday) for ceremonies to induct him into the Page Rank of the Order.

Tuesday, April 17, is the date set for taking Arthur Cline, Bob O'Bryant and J. C. Archie into the Page Rank at ceremonies to be conducted by the Elm Lodge of the Knights of Pythias in their lodge rooms in Oakland.

SCENE IN CENTERVILLE

By HELEN MOORE

MOVING

A farewell party was given last Tuesday for Miss Mildred Laudenschlager at the home of Mrs. C. T. Hygelund on Oak Street, by the Ladies Aid of the Presbyterian Church. Refreshments were served and a remembrance gift given Miss Laudenschlager, who is moving to Oakland to live with her brother. Many of us will remember the pleasant encounters had with her, in her greeting card business.

PLAN GARDEN PARTY

The Toyon Branch of the Children's Hospital met last Monday afternoon at the home of J. McDonald to discuss plans for their annual Garden Party to be held on Saturday, May 26. In recent years this affair has been held at the home of Mrs. J. Shinn, who is now traveling in Europe, and this year will be held at the Old Adobe on the California Nursery grounds. This party has become one of the favorites of township people and to assist this group that labors so hard to bring a little joy and physical fitness to the little tots at the Children's Hospital.

ENLISTS IN NAVY

Donald Eugene, 19, son of Mr and Mrs. Manuel Correa, enlisted in the United States Navy and left March 22 for his training at the San Diego training School. Donald graduated from Washington Union High School in the class of 1949.

DINNER PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. George Reeves entertained at a dinner party last Saturday night at their home in Hayward. Those enjoying the lovely evening were: Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Goold, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Gravestock, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Hird, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Voorhees and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Rehrig. The evening was spent playing bridge and looking at colored slides taken by Mr. Reeves.

FURLOUGH

Bobby Rose has been on a ten-day furlough from Camp Roberts, returning last Sunday to resume his duties.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

Last Sunday, Mrs. Theresa Agna was very surprised and pleased when a birthday party was planned in her honor along with three other friends having birthdays during the same week. Val's Club in Alviso was the scene of the festivities, and a delicious dinner was enjoyed by the guests. Those present were Miss Winifred Yates, Mr. Henry Harbour, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Becker, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Oliver, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Betencourt, Mr. Jack Preston and Mr. Ed Agna.

GARDEN TOUR

Mrs. Christine Hygelund, Mrs. Lillie Christenson and Miss Van Winkle enjoyed the garden tour in Hayward last Saturday, conducted by the Garden Section of the Hill and Valley Club. Seven lovely homes and gardens were open to the visitors along Charlene Way.

RETURNS HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Twitchett from San Francisco returned home last Tuesday after a week-end visit with Mr. and Mrs. Karl Nordvik and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Weber.

MEN'S CLUB MEETS

The Men's Club of Washington Township met at the International Kitchen last Thursday night. Mr.

NEWARK CARNIVAL SET FOR MAY 26

The date set for the Newark Youth Association's Carnival-Bazaar is May 26 and not the date published last week by error.

Harry Houston, who is in charge of the vaudeville show, announces that more people will be needed to fill out the cast and need only come to rehearsals to be accepted. The performers will meet every Wednesday night at 7:30 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Mrs. Kay Kettman, general chairman, says that the Wedgewood stove to be given away at the affair on May 26, will be on display this week in Freeman's Market.

HUSKIES BALL CLUB LICKED BY LICK; TOLLS THE BELLS

The Washington Huskies lost their second league game last week to James Lick School of San Jose, 5-2, in an afternoon game played on the home diamond.

Aldama, Lick's pitcher and a brother to San Jose Tech's chucker who turned back the invading Huskies two weeks ago, allowed but four hits.

OUT IN FRONT

Lick went out in front in the first inning when they scored three runs on a hit, walk, and a four master by Emery.

The Huskies scored their two runs in the sixth inning on Teague's walk, the bobble of Ciciros' ground ball, Nieve's walk, and a single by Juhl.

"Little Joe" Castro went the full seven innings for the Huskies, allowing but five hits.

DEFEAT BELLS

The Huskies defeated the Bellarmine Bells, 15-13, in a slugfest Tuesday in San Jose.

The Huskies scored in every inning with the big frame coming in the sixth, when they scored five runs on seven hits.

The Bells tried in vain to close the gap in the seventh inning when trailing 15-4. They collected 9 runs on seven hits.

The "big stickers" for the Huskies were Ed Carvalho and Jack Bribes, hitting 4 for 4 and 3 for 5, respectively. The Huskies outhit the Bells 17-12.

INJURY TAKES JUHL FROM HUSKY TEAM

"Whitey" Juhl, Huskies' left fielder, playing his third year on the varsity squad, broke his left leg when sliding into third base last Monday in practice.

He will be out for the remainder of the season.

NILES SPORTSMEN ANNOUNCE SHOOT

A spring shoot to be held April 22 was announced this week by the Niles Sportsmen's Club. The event will take place at the club's grounds on the Niles-Mission San Jose Highway, starting at 9 a.m. and continuing until 5 that afternoon.

According to President Joe Pine, there will be the popular running deer target, as well as large and small bore stationary targets. Games will be provided for women and children and refreshments will be available.

FUN AND FROLIC AT IRVINGTON TONIGHT

Nine youth organizations in Irvington will benefit from the Carnival and Gay '90's Revue to be presented at Irvington Elementary School tonight (Friday).

According to Mrs. Joe Burnsed, general chairman, the revue, M. C.'d by Auvil McLaughlin and stage managed by Bryce Phillips Jr., will be semi-professional in character, including such accomplished performers as 10-year-old television dancer, Jackie Walker, the Lee Sisters and Rosalie Rogers who will sing "songs you will remember" in a way calculated to inspire nostalgia for the good old nineties. Chubby Beck and J. B. Bishop will demonstrate their instrumental harmony technique, and Joe Reichmuth and his popular Swiss Band will provide entertainment of unusual quality.

Dancer Ebba Ray Terry has devised a performance in the mood of the Islands and Frances Prusso will render her specialty numbers. "The Johnson Family" with Flossie Pennington and Bonnie Pressley, completes the revue program which will be preceded by a skit in good old melodramatic style.

"Driven from Home" or "The Villian's Last Stand" will be enacted by Irene Robertson, Bruce Bradley, Dominic Mancuso, Auvil McLaughlin and Eva Mayer with Dick Mancuso as supporting actor. The revue and skit will be presented twice during the evening, at 7:30 and 9.

The impressive array of booths, novelties, games and general fun-making devices gathered for the occasion should make this evening memorable in the history of public entertainment.

TOWNSHIP CAMERAMEN PLAN FIELD TRIP

The Washington Township Camera Club, headed by President Kenneth Foster, will motor to Monterey on Sunday for the April field trip. Last month's trip took them to San Juan Bautista.

Anyone interested in joining the group is invited to join them at 9 o'clock on Sunday morning at the Custom House at Montrey.

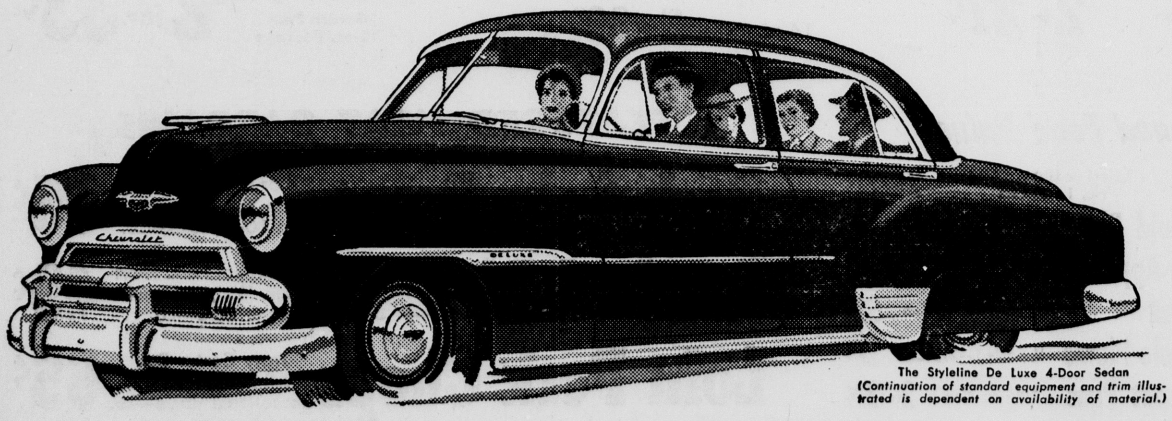
CHEVROLET

America's Largest and Finest Low-Priced Car!



The Styleline De Luxe 4-Door Sedan
(Continuation of standard equipment and trim illustrated is dependent on availability of material.)

Yes, LARGEST... and the facts speak for themselves

It's LONGEST in the low-price field, a full 197⅛ inches of spirited action and clean, sweeping lines. It's HEAVIEST in the low-price field, a staunch and solid 3140 pounds in the model illustrated. It has the WIDEST TREAD in the low-price field, a road-taming 58¾ inches between centers of the rear wheels. Longer, heavier, with wider tread . . . that's the measure of Chevrolet's rock-solid value . . . big in looks, big in handling and riding ease, big in road-hugging performance. Why settle for less than a Chevrolet . . . when Chevrolet is the lowest priced line in the low-price field.

Yes, FINEST...
and here are the plain-spoken reasons

FISHER BODY QUALITY, renowned for solid and lasting goodness. UNITIZED KNEE-ACTION RIDE, smooth and gliding. VALVE-IN-HEAD ENGINE ECONOMY, spirited performance at lowest cost. PANORAMIC VISIBILITY, with a big curved windshield and large window area. JUMBO-DRUM BRAKES, biggest in Chevrolet's field. SAFETY-SIGHT INSTRUMENT PANEL, with shielded instrument lights. POWERGLIDE AUTOMATIC TRANSMISSION, billion-mile-proved, combined with 105-h.p. valve-in-head engine optional on De Luxe models at extra cost.

Here's A Tip On Gasoline Quality

Some gasolines are refined to stress one or two special features . . . at the expense of others. No gasoline gives you all-around performance unless it has 8 important qualities...8 that make Chevron Supreme:
- Area-blending quality
- Mileage quality
- Power quality
- Anti-knock quality
- Vapor-lock prevention
- Starting quality
- Warm-up quality
- Acceleration quality

And because Chevron Supreme does have these 8 essential qualities, it's better balanced and thus more dependable under any conditions, anywhere in the West.

Give us a call today. We'll see that your bulk tanks are filled promptly. Judge for yourself what a difference Chevron Supreme Gasoline makes in your driving.

Gratifying Response To Dying Wish

A plea for help for his fellow-sufferers at Veterans' Hospital in Oakland by the late John W. Myers of Niles, met with an overwhelming response when friends contributed a considerable sum for the purchase of earphones for hard-of-hearing hospitalized veterans.

Mr. Myers, who died on March 24 after a long illness, had expressed the wish that friends should not send flowers for his funeral but should contribute to a fund to alleviate a condition that had come to his notice during his long stay in Veterans' Hospital. He noticed that varying degrees of deafness shut off some of his ward-mates from much of the social intercourse and entertainment that goes to make hospital life endurable. The Veterans' Administration does not provide hearing aids, so Mr. Myers decided that something could be done by individuals. Hence the appeal for no flowers but contributions.

June Wedding for Gayle Maphet-Howard Stepp

Plans for a June wedding for Gayle Maphet and Howard Stepp were announced this week by Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Maphet of Niles.

Howard, the son of Mrs. M. Stepp of Ketchikan, Alaska, met Gayle while they were both attending San Jose State College. Gayle belonged to Alpha Omicron Pi sorority and Howard was affiliated with Alpha Eta Rho fraternity.

Miss Maphet is a teacher at the Newark Elementary School while Mr. Stepp is excitingly employed flying a plane for Kohler Crop Dusters.

Newlyweds Feted by Colleagues Thursday

A dinner party at the International Kitchen in Niles was the occasion for the presentation of gifts to Helen and John Parry from the Niles Electric Company and Berchem Meat Market and employees.

Mr. and Mrs. John Brahmst of the Niles Electric, Helen's employers, were not able to be present but fellow employees, Mr. and Mrs. William Allen, Mr. and Mrs. John Cattaneo, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Costa and Mr. and Mrs. Ruel Brown, were on hand to honor the Parrys who were married on March 10.

The Berchem contingent was out in full force and included the John Berchems, the Julius Berchems, Mr. Nick Berchem, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mello, Mr. and Mrs. Amador Pratelli and Mr. Fred Rebello.

Awaiting Orders

Evan Parry, son of Mrs. Catherine Parry of Niles, is home on a fourteen-day leave after completing boot training. He will return to San Diego on April 17 for further orders. Bob de la Torre of Decoto and Rafael Andrade of Niles are also at home and wondering "what next?"

First Grandchild

The Harry Stevensons have named their new son Harry William. He weighed 7 pounds and 8 ounces at the time of his birth in Palo Alto Hospital on Sunday.

Young Harry is the first grandchild in the Bliss family of Niles.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Nuncio Arioto of Niles this week announced the engagement of their daughter, Claire, to Remo Caminada of Decoto.

The couple plan a June wedding after which they will live in Decoto. Mr. Caminada is employed at Kraftile.

In New Home

The Bud Hieberts are now in residence at their new home on Santos Road. The one-acre tract on which their house is built is located near Fremont Avenue.

DISCUSSION GROUP ENJOYS 'A SENSE OF HUMUS,' HUMOROUS TALE OF RURAL LIFE

By ETHEL AVILLA

Mrs. Bernie Joseph led a discussion of "A Sense of Humus" by Bertha Damon last Wednesday when members of the Discussion Group met at the home of Mrs. Walter Avilla.

The author says she acquired a permanent sense of humor in working the soil of her New Hampshire home. She describes the countryside, her neighbors, her love of raising dogs and through the eyes of "Samule," the hired man, we see the native New Englanders. As Mrs. Joseph pointed out, the author, though she definitely has a sense of humus, excels equally as a writer as evidenced by the wisdom and humor of her story of country life.

A luncheon, served by the hostess, preceded the meeting.

On May 2 the group will meet at the home of Mrs. Edward O'Mara in Newark. Mrs. Manuel Fontes will lead the meeting and has chosen Owen Lattimore's "The Making of Modern China."

Jacqueline Walker On Television Again

Those who have seen 10-year-old Jacqueline Walker perform will be interested to know that she is scheduled to appear on the Wally King Anniversary Show on KTIX Channel 5 at 6:45 tonight (Friday). Tonight marks the anniversary of Jacqueline's prize-winning performance on the same show one year ago.

The little girl will have a busy evening for she has promised to do two dances at the Irvington Carnival to be held in the Community Building in Irvington tonight.

Annual Visit

Mr. and Mrs. H. Burdick from Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, are house guests at the home of Mrs. Grace Gygax in Newark. The Burdicks make the trip to California every year to attend the annual Bowling Green tournament.

5 TOWNSHIP GRADUATES WIN JOURNEYMAN RATING

Journeyman Carpenter will be the rating conferred on five members of the Washington Union High School adult education classes, according to Warren Gravestock, night school principal.

Thomas S. Kerns, Francis Duarte and Anthony Bettencourt of Niles, Robert McIvor of Centerville, and Eugene F. Boyce of Newark, will receive their ratings at the mass graduation ceremonies of the Adult Education Department, to be held in Oakland in June.

SICK IN BED

Mrs. Louise Goularte, we are sorry to hear, has been confined to her bed for several days following a heart attack. Take it easy now and let's see you up and about very soon.

Films of Pilgrimage Shown to Group

Mrs. J. A. Silva and Mrs. George Rogers were among the two hundred members of the Archbishop Mitte Pilgrimage who met at St. Mary's Hospital last week-end to view a film showing the group on their travels through Europe and Holy Year celebration in Rome.

Mrs. Frances Donohoe and Mrs. Edward Rose of San Francisco were hostesses at the reception following the showing of the film by Mrs. Madeleine Carey of New York, also a member of the Pilgrimage.

SESQUI FILMS FOR HISTORICAL SOCIETY

A film presentation covering all phases of the 1947 Sesquicentennial Celebration at Mission San Jose will be given on Thursday, April 19, at 8:30 p.m., at the regular quarterly meeting of the Washington Township Historical Society, according to Mrs. Roland Bendel, chairman. The film showing will follow the group business meeting which convenes at 8 in the visual education room of the high school.

Mrs. Bendel says, "The association is most grateful for the privilege of viewing these films made by John Sandoval and Phillip Sousa." John Sandoval is the author of the Sesquicentennial Pageant, "Build We Here a Mission," which received great acclaim at the time of its presentation for its historical veracity and entertainment value.

Phillip Sousa's film will depict all phases of the three-day celebration, including the long and colorful parade which was organized by Walter Connolly and featured Rosemary Telles of Mission San Jose as Queen of the Sesquicentennial Celebration.

SPEND WEEK-END

Jack and Mary Edith Scott spent the week-end here at the home of his parents in Centerville and also at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Antone Santos, Jr. of Ellsworth Street. They returned by air to their home in Pomona. Even "Mom" Santos says she's going to try the airways her next trip south to visit the kids.

WINS CONTEST

Our boy "Butch" Vargas, son of Frank and Irma Vargas, has done it again. He is a member of the 4-H Club in the poultry line and last week he won fifty baby chicks from the Kimber Farms on a contest.

BABY BOY

He's a boy! Yes! On April 3 little James Campagna arrived to make the family five. He is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Campagna and joins brothers David and John. He weighed in at 8 pounds and 13 ounces. Some boy, but gee whiz, where is that girl?

NEW RESIDENTS

Dr. and Mrs. Paul Johnson, who are now residing in one of the Whiteside Apartments, are recent newcomers to our little town. He is employed at the Kimber Poultry Farm.

BUSY AS BEES

Mrs. Anna Mayer and daughter, Joanne, remind you of a couple of busy bees, you notice I said BEES, not BODIES, for they are buzzing around these days rushing plans for their new home next to the Marshall Grocery. They formerly lived at Mt. Angel, Oregon, and have wanted for years to be a part of this little town.

Oh yes, another person you see very busy around her yard is Marie Baptist. She recently quit her position and decided to really start to keep the home fires burning instead of trying to manage too many things as so many of us do and her yard is taking on that "Brushed Clean Look."

WORKS AT BANK

It will probably be said that "There she goes again, blowing about her family," and I was going to skip it, but when the bossman asks "Why?" then it is time to announce things, so Ruth Santos, daughter of your correspondent, is now employed at the Central Bank in Niles as bookkeeper. She likes her work fine and appreciates all the good wishes that have been extended to her.

FIREMEN CALLED OUT

The firemen were called from their beds one morning last week very early to try to save a car for a young man, which caught fire (not the man, the car). Their efforts were useless for it was too far gone when help arrived, not that they were slow as some gossip might say, but it was under the seat of the car and could not be reached. Then a few days later a tanker decided to try it too, but the driver and his trusty little extinguisher had it under control by the time help arrived.

HOBBY GROUP MEETS

The monthly dinner meeting of the Hobby Section was held at the Mission Hereford Ranch home of Margaret Bunting with Mrs. Florence Thompson and Mrs. Vera Taylor acting as cohostesses. Following the lovely dinner, there was a business meeting and social time. A thank you was read from Miss Geraldine Fernandez for the continued scholarship they had given her this year to finish her nursing career in San Francisco. The lovely home was decorated in many artistic arrangements of spring flowers.

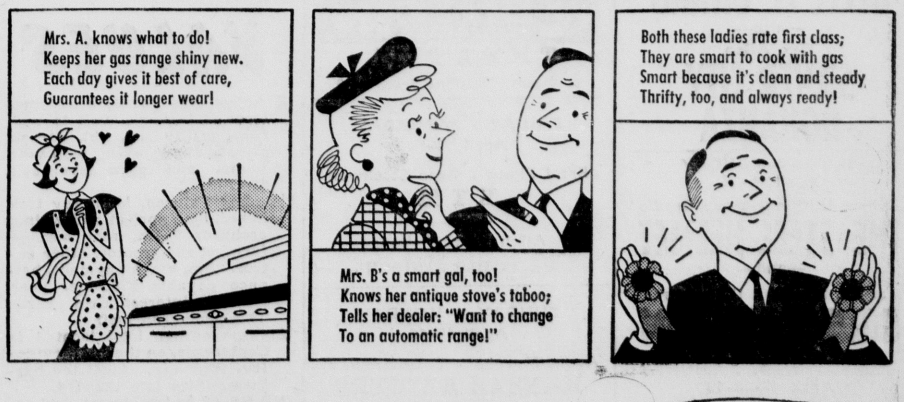
The whole family loves our automatic gas range!



Mrs. A. knows what to do!
Keeps her gas range shiny new.
Each day gives it best of care,
Guarantees it longer wear!
Mrs. B's a smart gal, too!
Knows her antique stove's taboo;
Tells her dealer: "Want to change
To an automatic range!"
Both these ladies rate first class;
They are smart to cook with gas
Smart because it's clean and steady
Thrifty, too, and always ready!

If you have a modern gas range, take good care of it. If you do not have one, investigate the possibility of buying one. It's smart to cook with an automatic gas range because gas is so quick and clean, so inexpensive. Now's the time to see your dealer!

TRIP TO MONTEREY

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Seoane Jr. and children motored to Monterey last Sunday to visit some of the relatives there.

NICE GOING!

Mrs. Marie Gomes of 603 G Street is proudly showing her friends the clippings she received from Monterey crediting her husband, Private William Gomes, with the highest score ever attained in proficiency tests at Fort Ord. Private Gomes scored 99 out of a possible 100 points for tests in general subjects, rifle, physical fitness and weapons. "According to figures computed by G-3, there is one chance in 20,000 of equaling the score," the news clipping read.

MOSQUITOES ENCOURAGED

The Alameda County Mosquito Abatement District lost one of their efficient men last week when Donald Hitchen left their employ and went to the payroll of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

FIRST COMMUNIONS

Charles Scorpiniti and Roberta Steinhauer, both of Decoto, were among the 20 children who received first Holy Communion last Sunday morning at the St. Mary's Church in Mission San Jose.

BON VOYAGE

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Styles of Tenth Street are looking forward to the trip they will take to French Morocco in Africa on April 14. Mr. Styles, who has been with the Lindsay Prefabricated Homes for several years, expects to operate a sawing mill when he arrives there, for at least three years. The Styles will fly from New York to their destination which is approximately 80 miles from Casablanca. Goodbye folks, and good luck.

LUCK ON LEAVE

Johnny Torquemada, while home on leave from Camp Roberts, has been doing a bit of fishing and was proud to bring home a 30-pound bass last week.

HOME FROM SAN DIEGO

Seen around Decoto this past week was Bob de la Torre, who was on leave from his base in San Diego. Nice to see you around, Bob.

DINNER PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Cordeiro motored with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Oliveria Jr. of Alameda and Mr. and Mrs. Oliveria Sr. to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Perry of San Jose last Sunday where they enjoyed a very nice dinner.

VELASQUEZ-GARCIA VOWS EXCHANGED

Miss Carmen Velasquez of Sunnyvale became the bride of John Garcia last Sunday at 3:30 p.m. at St. Martin's Church in Sunnyvale. She wore a lovely nylon marquisette gown with a sweetheart neckline and a snug lace bodice. She had a fingertip veil and carried a bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis. Her maid of honor, Isabel Gonzales, wore a nile green strapless nylon marquisette gown with matching stole and picture hat. She carried a bouquet of white and yellow carnations. The bride's other attendants were Mary Padilla, Mary Jane Garcia (the groom's sister), Lilly Damingas, and Ophila Damingas. They wore gowns similar in style to that of the honor attendant but in yellow nylon marquisette and carried bouquets of green carnations. The men wore white dinner jackets with green carnation boutonnieres. The best man was Dwino Bassignani who is stationed at Camp Roberts. Leonard Smith, Don Hitchen, Alfonso Velasquez and Joe Gallardo served as ushers. The reception was held at the Sunnyvale City Hall. Both the bride's mother and the groom's mother wore navy blue outfits which were completed with orchid corsages. The bride wore an orchid colored suit with green accessories for her going away outfit. The couple will motor down south and will reside in the home now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Scorpiniti and son on Tenth Street.

HOLY ROSARY MEETS

The regular monthly meeting of the Holy Rosary Guild was held last Tuesday evening with Mrs. Stella Calderia presiding. The minutes were read and approved by Secretary Mary Re. A financial report was read. A report on the Easter basket was read. A motion was made and seconded to donate the proceeds toward the building fund. Mrs. Hazel Costa was nominated program chairman with Mrs. Elmer Peixotto as her assistant. President Calderia announced that Mrs. McWhirter would speak about the Catholic Charity organization in this town. She also reported on the progress of the church building, the labor and materials. Father Duggan spoke to the group about the business of the day. Mrs. Agnes Rebello won the dime drive prize. Mary Janeiro made a motion for the meeting to adjourn. The members then enjoyed refreshments provided by the committee, Mary Janeiro and Henrietta Cambra. The next refreshment committee will be Katie Luna and Mrs. A. L. Costa.

DAISY BORGHI MODELS

Mrs. Franza Borghi of Santa Clara, Mrs. Bessie Borghi, Mrs. motored to the Fairmont Hotel T. Fowl and Mrs. Anna Brown Tuesday afternoon to attend the summer fashion show where 50 models displayed the latest for summer. Approximately 1,000 women attended. Among the models was Daisy Borghi, a student at the University of California.

Good Food . . . Plus Beauty

NICHOLS FIELD WILSON

In 1938 Dorothy and Elmer ke bought an unattractive ear-old bungalow in Holly- od and transformed it into a int beautiful New England e dining place. They called Colonial Inn.

n their first menu Mr. and . Wilke stated their ideals in se words: "In our quaint cot- e we have endeavored to ate a restful and harmonious nosphere wherein our guests y find a refuge from the rush confusion of modern life, quietly dine in the spirit of teryear . . . We want you to e Colonial Inn with a sense complete satisfaction.

hey succeeded beyond their dest expectations. Seating y 60 guests word-of-mouth ertising quickly filled the le place of beauty with long ting lines. Luscious fluffy ffon pie was one specialty t brought fame. This corres- ident wrote a magazine arti- that was widely reprinted ing of the good food attract- ely served. Dale Carnegie ntioned the Wilke's and their ious pies in his syndicated vspaper column along with great Oscar of the Waldorf.

s Mr. Wilke comments, "I be- ve that the public is just as ngry for beauty as it is for od food, and when a dining ce appeases the guest's hun- with good food attractively ved and at the same time isfies the hunger for beauty creating a quiet and restful nosphere wherein that guest ies, then and then only does guest leave 'with a sense of mplete satisfaction.'"

The Colonial Inn was a suc- ss. The Wilke family future s certain, and in the summer 1945 Elmer and Dorothy like determined upon a year's cation. They visited New York d the east, learning about er famous eating places and joyed their hospitality home at guna Beach. Travel, research d a thoughtful period of rest d meditation prior to launch- g an expansion of their basic ea of combining good food nlist beauty.

San Marino was wisely chosen their new enterprise, known the Colonial Kitchen. San arino famous for the Huntting- n Library and one of the finest sidential communities in uthern California.

They bought a business prop- ty gas station and adjoining ick building on Huntington ive and as they had so suc- cessfully done in Hollywood in earlier days, they converted this property into a neat, trim and inviting Colonial structure with an authentic colonial doorway which beckoned one to enter.

Late in January 1947 the Colonial Kitchen opened for business at 1110 Huntington Drive and was a success from that very day. Elmer Wilke says, "It is highly gratifying to have the clean, restful and harmoniously colorful atmosphere."

Now in its sixth year of success with "Beauty and Pie" the Colonial Kitchen not only pleases the residents of San Marino but the many who visit that section, from all parts of California. Visitors to the lovely wealthy and cultured people of San Marino tell us that our type of eating place was badly needed in their community, and to have them express gratitude for our fine food served in such communities of San Marino, Arcadia, Sierra Madre, Pasadena, Monterey Park and South Pasadena go to the Colonial Kitchen for a de luxe steak, a humble hamburger or a delightful meal, "where there is beauty with good food."

The Wilke's have arrived. In June they celebrate their 25th marriage anniversary. Son Roland will soon complete College and be ready to take over. For the past year the handsome new home of the Wilke's has been in course of construction. Of course it is in San Marino just a short way from the place of business and on April second of this year they moved in.

Guiding star of success for Dorothy and Elmer Wilke has been their search for beauty. In San Marino they have found it and in their Colonial Kitchen share it with their guests.

"It Is Not Too Late To Plan Ahead"

By DR. ROBERT G. SPROUL
President, University of California

The State of California has only recently observed the centennial of its admission into the Union. It is among the most youthful divisions of a youthful Nation with its future where a future should be, in the years that lie ahead, rather than dead and partly buried with the past. We share with many peoples on earth the accumulated experience of mankind, but unlike a great number of them, we are in a position to profit by that experience and to do something about applying it to our own future.

I sincerely hope that, as we start our second century, we will look around the world and glean a lesson here and there to guide us in our planning. We have been profligate with some of our natural resources, but we may still save much through common sense support of the fundamental facts of conservation. We have devoted our time and thought to the promoting of a greater population on the Pacific Coast, and, in recent years, it has been growing faster than our accommodations, but it is not too late to plan ahead for population growth rather than struggle with the problems after they are with us. Our objective now is to maintain our standard of living, to keep California the delightful state it has always been, an agricultural state, if you please, despite its inevitable development as a great urban center.

The world situation will unquestionably have its effect on our state, and we must play our part in keeping the world on an even keel. But the world will not be saved, nor will our lives and happiness be made more secure by neglecting the problems we have at home, in order to worry about those at a distance. We are young enough and strong enough to take on both at once.

Satisfied With Your Hobby--- Try Cutting Marble Instead

By VERA WILLIAMS

For a really satisfying hobby, try cutting marble.

So, with shining eyes, says Pete Zeolla, 500 West 17th Street, Long Beach, who began learning marble cutting when he was a 17-year-old lad in Italy, living midway between Rome and Naples. Zeolla enjoys his hobby so much that he says he still would rather cut marble than eat when he is hungry.

Zeolla has lamp bases, clocks, bookends, table tops of marble and onyx, and he recently has made several onyx ashtrays. These include a C-47, 16 inches long; a Spitfire which he named for his nephew, Leo Zeolla, who was shot down in a Spitfire in the Marianas, and a rocket.

Next to Artist

"When I was 7 years old, I lived next door to an artist, a marble cutter," he says. "I used to clean up his shop. One day he put a chisel in my hand and said 'Go to work, Boy. . . . But there will be no payment for six years.'

"And there wasn't. My father went into a contract with him. I was to work six years. If I ran away, my father was to pay him $500. If he kicked me out, he would have to pay my father $500. I had to work morning to night, but I loved the beautiful marble."

Moved West

Zeolla came to the United States in 1920, and three years later, when he could speak English better, he moved to California from Pittsburgh. Marble, which has veins, is more likely to break than onyx, when it is cut, he says. Zeolla makes patterns for everything that he wishes to make, then drills a hole in the material and cuts according to the pattern. Often he cuts with carborundum, cooled with water, but intricate work he does with hand tools.

He polishes everything three times.

Zeolla now has ordered marble from Italy, which he hopes to cut into a 4-foot-high replica of the Empire State Building.

MARBLEMAN—Pete Zeolla would rather cut marble than eat when he's hungry. He worked on his first piece of marble when only seven years of age.

next famous figure to become the rage of the motion picture makers, the biographers and the short story writers! The KEFAUVER crime committee will continue in spite of city political machines trying to wreck it . . . All former newsboys, which number senators, judges, teachers, bankers, editors and merchants, will be asked to contribute towards a "Newsboy Hall of Fame!" and this will be built next year! JOHN FOSTER DULLES, special Presidential envoy, will write his autobiography and will pull no punches with his sharp criticism of the State Department . . . The latest PARIS fad of going barefooted to social events will spread to this country, and will be fought by the national shoe industry.

Criswell Answers

Dear Criswell: Are my husband's business partners honest with him?—Mrs. D. C. Lola.

My dear Lola: Yes, but your husband will sell out to them before too long. The new selling job will be quite successful. You will move by midsummer. I see no operation at this time for your daughter, for you will seek other medical opinion.

Dear Criswell: Will I marry again? How long will I stay with my present job? —Helen O'N.

My dear Helen: Yes, by January of 1952. Until September.

Dear Criswell: Will I have any children? Will my sister's child be a girl?—Mrs. J. P.

My dear Mrs. P.: Yes, one, a son. No, a son.

Dear Criswell: My old sweetheart came back into my life after 32 years and now he wants me to leave my husband for him. Would this be wise?—Gertha C.

My dear Gertha: You would be quite foolish to do this. If he loved you so much why did he leave you to your own devices 32 years ago? You will send him packing.

Dear Criswell: Will Amy ever be able to see again?—Ross V.

My dear Rose: The doctors have told you that the eyes must be removed as they are cancerous, but her life will be rich and full for she has many memories of her 87 years. When she passed she did not have even have a coal oil lamp, but now she has seen the Nation grow into modern electricity, radio, television. She will not last long, but her last days will be made happy by you.

Dear Criswell: Will my brother ever return?—George O. A.

My dear George: Yes, by early 1952.

Dear Criswell: Is Frederick the father of my child?—Nora K.

My dear Nora: Yes, and you will go into court and make him pay for your support and for his child. You owe it to the child not to work like you have been doing, and ye your health, for it is dangerous work in the laundry, and you could cause a fatal accident.

Dear Criswell: Who will buy my corner house?—Mary L.

My dear Mary: The oil company will buy it for its filling station. Your neighbors will kick but I feel you should look out for yourself. This man next to you may rave, but there is little he can do about it. Frankly he is sorry he did not buy it and resell it to the oil company for the money you will get.

Dear Criswell: Will my father ever be found?—Estelle D.

My dear Estelle: His body has long since been taken by the earth, but you will hear of this as they will uncover the bones and establish his identity by a watch he wore. You have claimed the insurance, and this has now been paid as far as they are concerned. September will bring you news.

Dear Criswell: What is wrong with the health of the couple we think so much of? —Mrs. A. S.

My dear Mrs. S.: It is mostly wrong diet and a mental attitude. You will leave there in 1952. You will make the adjustment at school. The job is secure. You will own a home of your own next year. Your health will continue good.

Dear Criswell: Why did the man I love marry someone else?—Glehn.

My dear Glehn: This was good riddance for you will find a man who will mean someone else much better by the end of the year. You will sell your confessional stories. You will advise your daughter to stay home she is at the present time.

Dear Criswell: Will I lose money on my dogs? Where can we drill for water? Is there oil here?—Phil and Fonty Mrs. NP.

My dear Mrs. NP: You will break even on the dogs. You will find water in the northwest section. There will not be any oil activity until 1952.

Dear Criswell: Will we buy a home of our own?—Mrs. Bess C.

My dear Mrs. C.: Early in 1952, and it will be truly the home of your dreams.

Dear Criswell: Should I sell all my furniture and buy new now or wait until later?—Edna T.

My dear Edna: You will wait for the summer sales and then you will be able to get the set you want at a greatly reduced rate. You will sell your old furniture at auction.

Dear Criswell: How will my married life turn out?—Just Unhappy Mrs. L.

My dear Mrs. L.: There will naturally be adjustments, but I feel things will settle down to your satisfaction very soon. The month of May will be a pleasant one.

Dear Criswell: Will my daughter marry and when?—Chloe M. B.

My dear Chloe: Yes, by the end of this year. You will see F. D. this summer. O. will sell the Oregon property. You will take that trip very soon.

Dear Criswell: What line of work shall I follow to raise my seven children and what shall I do about their father?—Mrs. Katie T.

My dear Mrs. T.: I do feel that you will run a rooming house, and that you will make it clear to them just what happened to your husband. Do not try to shield him.

Dear Criswell: Will we ever be out of debt?—Mrs. F. J. P.

My dear Mrs. P.: Yes, completely by August 1st.

Dear Criswell: Should I trust this man with my business property?—Minnie W. R.

My dear Minnie: Cancel your power of attorney that you have given him for he will cheat you.

Dear Criswell:
Should I invest more money in my patent. How long will I stay here? Cora S.

My dear Cora:
No, you have it protected now. It must be a little more commercial now before you will be able to sell it out on a royalty basis. You will stay there through the summer. Your girl friend will marry later this year.

Dear Criswell:
Will my sister be alright? Will her husband go to work soon? Sally W.

My dear Sally:
She will completely recover by early summer. Yes, he will be working by the time you read this letter in your paper. You will marry G.W.K.

Dear Criswell:
When will my husband come back to me, and should I take him back? Irma T.

My dear Irma:
He will come knocking on your door late at night and you will take him back. Look around May 10th.

Dear Criswell:
Do I have the talent to compete in the debating finals with George R.

My dear George:
Yes, and you will come out first place.

Dear Criswell:
Who took that money from my purse when I went outside? Marie S.

My dear Marie:
The man who drove you there.

Dear Criswell:
Will my husband be recalled to the service? Mrs. Nell B.

My dear Mrs. B.:
I do not sense he will be called. You will own your home in 1952. It will be a boy.

Dear Criswell:
Should I get married or go back to work? Jackie.

My dear Jackie:
I do not like to discourage you, but you will marry this man and you will still continue to work. You will go north on a honeymoon.

Dear Criswell:
Where is my fountain pen? Should we continue to live here? Mrs. T.C.C.

My dear Mrs. T.C.C.:
You will find it in the very back of your desk. Yes, you will profit greatly by the growth of your town.

Dear Criswell:
Can my throat be cured? Will they find oil on my land? Flora B.

My dear Flora:
Yes, you will find that you will be completely cured by mid-summer through a new treatment this doctor will soon give you. Yes, but not until 1952. Your son will make you very proud of him.

Dear Criswell:
Will I win my law suit? Elva T.

My dear Elva:
You will settle out of court and it will please you very much. Do not invest your money in this other wild cat scheme before consulting your lawyer.

Dear Criswell: Will we stay with our present employment? Will we remain old chums? J. & M. K.

My dear J. & M. K.—You will make a change late in 1951, and I feel that by the middle of '52 you will both be happily married.

Dear Criswell: My husband says if I believe in God I cannot believe in you too. I tell him he crazy like the rest of his family who are fanatics of every kind. I know you are able to foretell and predict many amazing things, and really help people in life. I am able to tell people about things too, and when they come into my business I say, "Just a lucky guess," so I know of your work. Is it my husband's elderly aunt who is setting fire to things, or is it just combustion? Her mind is wandering and she wanders with it, and is always smoking. Does she secrete matches? These fires are always at night. Will my husband get the new contract for street lighting?—Anna K.

My dear Anna: If you value your life, have your husband's aunt watched day and night. The street lighting contract will be his by Sept. 1. Thank you for your kind letter. My gift is like yours, unexplainable.

Dear Criswell: Things have gone from bad to worse! My daughter's husband now insists her self-centered ways make the adjustment at school. The job is secure. You will own a home of your own next year. Your health will continue good.

Dear Criswell: Why did the man I love marry someone else?—Glehn.

MINIATURE HATS—Something original in table favors was created recently by two Bishop club-women who discovered miniature, inexpensive replicas of a woman's headgear would prove a novelty as bridge club or luncheon designs.

Women's Hats in Miniature Lend Novel Spark to Luncheon Tables

By JIM HAYES
Editor, Inyo Register

Ever racked your brain for a new table favor that will surprise the ladies at the bridge club—or put a spark into a big luncheon?

Two Bishop women did. And they came up with a novel idea in table decoration that anyone can duplicate with time, patience and a few scraps of material.

Mrs. A. G. Andrews and Mrs. Louis Serventi, co-chairmen of the Bishop Women's Improvement club's annual spring fashion show and luncheon, were responsible for planning and preparing table favors for the 200 club women and guests attending the pre-Easter affair.

Something Expressive

The two women talked over, and rejected, all the usual cardboard, crepe paper and tinsel favors used at local social affairs in the past. None would do. They were looking for something inexpensive, yet expressive of the fashion theme and unique enough to excite comment.

"We finally hit on the little hats," Mrs. Andrews explains it. "We'd thought of everything else, but these seemed to be just what we wanted."

The 'little hat' project started as an idea and a bag of material scraps—and ended with the creation of 200 miniature millinery models and the acclaim of guests and sponsors of the spring fashion show.

Each tiny hat, in styles ranging from straw beach models through metallic evening numbers to the latest in brides' wear, was created by the two women, with some assistance from drafted husbands and volunteer club helpers.

Like Real Hats

Basically, the hats are created just as their full-fledged counterparts, according to Mrs. Andrews. Most of the miniatures were built around circular sections cut from milk bottle top cartons — obtained at a local dairy. The crowns are approximately an inch and a half in diameter.

Scraps of material, including everything from salvaged men's hats and dress decorations to stray pieces of Christmas ribbon and velvet, were glued into place around the crown frames.

"In all," says Mrs. Andrews, "we spent less than $2 in making the 200 hats. Most of the materials we used could have been found in any housewife's scrap bag."

Wooden Pedestal

As each hat was finished, it was mounted on a small wooden pedestal, made from odd pieces of scrap lumber by Mrs. Andrews' husband. Finally, after two weeks of designing and assembling, the tiny creations were ready for the show.

Each hat drew admiring comment at the show, and many were topics of conversation in the week after the affair—for they represented the makers' idea of individual club members' choice in hat styles. Each miniature was perfect in every detail, and reflected the hours of work and care Mrs. Andrews and Mrs. Serventi spent in their creation.

That's the idea—you take it from there. Raid the scrap bag, talk friend husband into making a few pedestals in the home workshop — and you'll have a start on a novel and inexpensive table favor that can't miss at your next big affair.

HUNDREDS JOIN "RAMONA" PILGRIMAGE

Twin Cities Plan Annual Outdoor Play

By ROBERT M. FINCH

Lovers of romantic spectacle from all parts of the country will join this week in the 24th annual pilgrimage to Riverside County's renowned mountain amphitheater to observe the 1951 production of the Ramona Outdoor Play.

Presented by 350 play-acting residents of the twin cities of Hemet and San Jacinto April 21-22, April 28-29 and May 5-6, the spectacle will be observed in the picturesque and naturally-formed Ramona Bowl.

The pageant play is a dramatization of Helen Hunt Jackson's immortal novel, "Ramona," staged in the very locale where its Indian heroine lived and loved and died, by the descendants of the very pioneers who took part in its stirring events.

Every year bankers, druggists, ranchers, teachers, students and others in all walks of life don grease paint and thrill to the opportunity to take part in re-enacting incidents in the lives of their ancestors. Many of them have appeared in the play for more than a decade.

The annual production is a monument to the genius, energy and persistence of the Hemet and San Jacinto people.

An accident gave them a setting that is envied by dramatic producers and architects the world over. Two parties of quail hunters were climbing up opposite sides of a canyon on the slopes of Mt. San Jacinto near the twin cities.

Hear Conversation

They entered a huge pocket, or bowl, in the canyon, and each was immediately startled by the fact that the ordinary conversation of the opposite party, hundreds of yards away, was clearly audible and understandable.

They reported the remarkable acoustic properties of the spot to those engaged in planning the first production of the Ramona pageant-play. The planners found a natural outdoor theater, the advantages of which they did not dream existed.

With the towering summit of Mt. San Jacinto itself as an awe-inspiring background, the huge pocket provided a made-to-order stage of magnificent proportions. Narrow side canyons cut through solid rock furnished ready-made entrances and exits.

This is the gorgeous setting from which pilgrims from near and far will view the 24th annual production. To date, nearly 500,000 persons have made the tour to see the play.

Seated in a modern amphitheater on the canyon wall, they look across a merrily babbling brook to a replica of the old Camulos ranch house in the center of the natural stage.

Gay Scenes

They view gay scenes in the life of the Early California rancher of more than a half-century ago, at sheepshearing time.

They will view the budding of the love idyll between the beautiful ward of the haughty Moreno family, Ramona, and Alessandro, captain of the sheepshearers, the hero.

Ramona will keep her secret tryst with Alessandro in the wistaria bower of the rancheria garden, unaware of shadows hovering over their romance. The onlookers will witness the discovery of the lovers by the senor and her rage that her ward should stoop to a clandestine meeting with an Indian ranch hand.

They will watch the lovers flee the wrath of the senora, and just as the setting sun casts long purple shadows into the bowl, will come the poignant climax of the drama, marking the passing from glory of the redman.

Finally in a gorgeous epilogue, they will see Ramona finding real happiness again, with the closing of the old ranch estancia bringing a nostalgic note to the finale.

Artificial Properties

The fact that no artificial properties are used and that every word of the player is heard across the magnificent distances of the natural stage combine to create the illusion that the spectators are seeing actual events of decades ago transpire before their very eyes.

None of the artificialness of a stage setting mars the presentation. Mountain birds twitter in the brush and wild quail send their strident calls from the rock piles in the bowl during the performances.

Horsemen gallop in and out of the bowl in its stirring episodes and the sharp click of the steel shoes of the horses on the rocks is heard long before they can be seen entering the defiles.

Real Indians

Real Indians from the nearby Soboba and Cahuilla reservations are seen in many of the roles of the play, and all the ranch customs of early days are faithfully reproduced.

The play is enacted by a cast of 350, with local residents portraying all the leading roles. More than a score of the principal players have portrayed their parts year after year until they have attained the proficiency of professionals.

In 1922, the play was inaugurated as a chamber of commerce enterprise. The late Garnet Holme, wizard of California pageantry, was brought in to organize and direct the first production. He served continually until 1929 as the director, when an accidental fall brought about his death.

The initial production, on three successive days in 1923, was witnessed by 3023 persons who found vantage spots on ledges of the canyon wall to witness the spectacle, taking their automobile cushions along for seats. The following year, 3871 persons viewed the pageant.

In 1925, 9509 persons traveled to the bowl to witness the colorful play, presented on two successive week-ends. Seeking to enhance the comfort of guests, the residents of the twin cities erected wooden seats and permanently improved a road to the rim of the bowl.

Bleachers Fixed

The next year, some of the wooden bleachers were replaced with permanent concrete seats in line with a progressive plan of improvement that has resulted in the construction of the modern, up-to-date amphitheater, seating 6000.

The growth of attendance and spread of the fame of the play led to the formation of the Ramona Pageant Association to relieve the chamber of commerce of the increasing responsibility of staging such a production.

In 1950, the play attracted 26,742 persons for the six performances, the second largest attendance in the 23 years the drama has been staged. The play has not fallen below the 25,000 attendance mark in four years.

The 160 acres including the bowl is held in trust as a public park by the association, which maintains year-round headquarters in the bowl offices, where reservations for various productions may be made, often for months in advance.

Paved roads lead to the bowl, three miles from both Hemet and San Jacinto. A gentle incline runs to the rim of the amphitheater where passengers are discharged directly into the aisles. Automobiles and busses carrying guests are driven to the bowl entrance and returned to the parking area at the foot of the incline, with space for 5000 motorcars. As an added convenience, station wagons return the drivers to the bowl entrance.

Ramona's Grave

The graves of Ramona and Alessandro are in the little cemetery on the Cahuilla Indian reservations, 40 miles south of Hemet.

The remains of the tiny adobe hut occupied by Ramona and Alessandro may be seen at Juan Diego Flats, not far from the reservation. Unoccupied since the tragedy of the story, the little cabin is crumbling into dust.

The famed Casa Loma ranch house, five miles west of San Jacinto, is a famed landmark of the valley. It was erected 125 years ago by the Franciscan fathers of the San Luis Rey Mission as an outpost to guard mission lands. It now is owned by descendants of Pio Pico, last Spanish governor of California.

Noted for their hospitality to visitors, the people of the twin cities of Hemet and San Jacinto ordain the days on which the pageant is produced as holidays, when all but necessary business is suspended and the entire populace turns out in costume of the Ramona era to make welcome guests from near and afar.

Afternoon Show

Each performance of the colorful play starts at 2:45 o'clock in the afternoon, closing at approximately 5 o'clock, leaving ample time for motorists to enjoy the scenic beauties of the region in going to and from the picturesque bowl.

Motorbusses run direct to the bowl from Riverside, connecting with motor transport lines from all principal Southern California cities on pageant days.

In alternate years the cities of Hemet and San Jacinto hold Ramona street fiestas, and the California Newspaper Publishers' Association, many service clubs, fraternal orders and other organizations occupy huge blocks of seats on the three week-ends of the play.

The Cover

The love tragedy between Ramona, ward of the rich, haughty Moreno family, and Alessandro, the Indian sheepshearer, is symbolized in this photograph by Coy Watson Photos.

These two players, Dorothy Bailey, University of California at Los Angeles drama student, and William Pullen, portraying the Indian hero for the fourth year, will be highlighted in the Ramona outdoor pageant.

This is the natural setting for the pageant, held in an open mountain amphitheater near Hemet and San Jacinto, the twin cities sponsoring the annual show.

Intelligent Planting Assures Perfect Street Tree Shading

By ALFRED AMES
Garden Editor

Most of us think of community planning as a recent development in local government. The accompanying scene is part of a California subdivision laid out before the gay nineties. It has 60-foot streets, a permanent planting of suitable trees, and, though a street of modest homes, has acquired a dignity and charm attainable only through time and the foresight of the original planner. This happy choice of a good street tree has paid handsome returns.

The trees shown are camphor, suitable for planting throughout most of California. The camphor makes a reasonably rapid growth and is particularly free from pests. As years pass its rugged, sturdy growth gives little trouble from decay or splitting.

These particular camphors were planted on March 3, 1888, and long ago their branches met over the center of the 60-foot street which they border.

Rapid Growth

Unfortunately, we are inclined to chose shade trees largely on the basis of how rapidly they grow. Thus, many of our plantings consist of short lived, vigorous growing trees that soon reach a stage of decline and are an expense to maintain or remove. In planting, why not set between each permanent tree a rapid grower that will be removed while still of a reasonable size or as soon crowding is evident?

Another practice that has merit is that of choosing a temporary tree that takes kindly to severe pruning. With a little judgment and a good sharp pruning saw you can do just about what you want with such trees as the sycamore.

Another tree that has taken an awful trimming in our state is the Texas Umbrella. In fact, many people recognize this one only if it is pruned to resemble an umbrella. Actually it grows to be a tall handsome tree if let alone—but also a real hazard. Older specimens are notorious for shedding huge limbs in wind storms.

Kids Thank

Let's get back to our permanent trees—those your children are going to thank you for planting. After having raked, hauled, burned, buried and composted many tons of soggy autumn leaves—we should be interested in what our new planting holds for us along those lines. Now, our friend, camphora officinarum, Bailey tells us, is the tree from whose wood camphor is distilled.

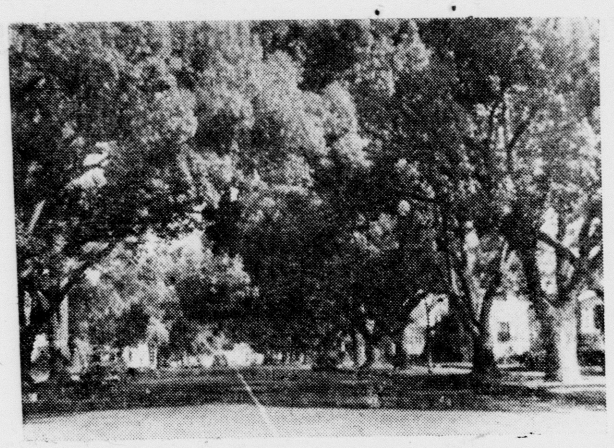
Its leaves—alternate, ovate—elliptic, acuminate to five inches long—that's right about like a pear leaf. Like many broad-leafed evergreens, most of camphor's autumn leaves fall in early spring. In fact, the bronze hued new growth seems to push the mature leaves off—come the vernal equinox. I like it—a fine aromatic autumn leaf fire—while my neighbors follow the regular old spring routine.

Tree Habits

It is a good thing to know the habits of the trees you contemplate using for street shade trees. For instance, they may be grown from seed or cuttings. In some trees wide variations occur when they are started from seed.

In order to guarantee exactly what your mature tree will be your nurseryman should know how your tree was started. A good example of this is to be found in the ash trees—a fine street tree throughout the state. You may buy named varieties such as the popular Modesto Ash that will grow into uniformly beautiful, shiny, green, seed free, mature trees. Or you can get just any old Ash varying in size, shape, rate of growth, color, and seed bearing ability!

Unfortunately many home builders give little thought to—or leave to chance—this matter of permanent trees. Occasionally you will find a home being built to utilize the beauty of old mature trees—shut off the ignition and snoop a bit—chances are you've found a builder with real imagination!



NOT BRAND NEW—This scenic street with excellent shading from trees is not the result of present-day planning. Back in 1888, a sound-thinking sub-divider looked into the future and lined a wide street with camphor trees, thus assuring future residents with comfortable living conditions.

10 Avocado Types Show Promise

Ten avocado varieties have shown promising production characteristics in recent years in a continuous orchard research project at the University of California Citrus Experiment Station.

They are the Regina, Emerald, Halstead, Hass, Irving, Nowels, Zutano, Ryan, Clifton and Duke.

Objectives of the project are to select and develop varities favorable to production of one of California's important specialty crops. The work dates back over 30 years.

First avocado variety orchard was planted at the station during the period of 1919-23. It included about 30 named varieties, considered most promising at the time, and numerous seedling trees.

Of those planted, only the Fuerte is now considered suitable for the intermediate and interior climatic zones.

Exotic Plant

The Gloxinia, an exotic plant, usually treated as a greenhouse subject, is tuberous rooted and similar in culture to tuberous begonias. In the Fall when the leaves die down after the blooming period, water should be withheld altogether. It then should be given a rest for about two months or until new growth begins, indicated by small pink shoots.

Home Gardeners Think About Strawberry Plants

Many home gardeners are giving thought to the setting out of strawberry plants this spring. Although strawberries are not always easy to grow, they have proven popular with a number of gardeners.

Level the planting area carefully and work the soil to a depth of about eight inches. Crumble the soil well so it will pack easily around the strawberry roots.

If necessary, use a little well-rotted manure just before working the soil. It is too late, now, for unrotted manure which must be used several months before planting.

The single row, raised bed is the easiest to handle from the standpoint of weeding setting runner, and picking. Farm advisers recommend beds about 4 to 5 inches high, with the plants 8 to 10 inches apart in the row and the beds about 28 inches apart from center to center.

Where sprinkler irrigation is to be used, the plants should be set on flat or level ground so that the rows are about 20 inches apart.

This system may also be used on a slope without terraces if the rows are planted on the contour. The flat planted method is suitable only in areas where the soil is light and the fruit will dry off rapidly after sprinkling.

Hardy Camellia Is Versatile

For perfection of form and delicacy of texture there is probably no flower in the entire plant world that can compete with the camellia. As a general landscape subject it has exceptional value, and when in flower it will prove one of the most attractive ornaments in your garden.

The camellia is a very much misunderstood plant. It will tolerate a wider range of temperature than you probably ever thought possible. Camellias have been known to withstand temperatures as low as 15 degrees and as high as 105, and still come through with a profusion of bloom.

Cherished Dreams

Pick a Gown Now For June Brides

By HELEN WEILL
Fashion Editor

"April showers bring May flowers, and June is the month for brides," which means that now is the day to concentrate on the gown every girl has dreamed for and every mother has wanted for her little girl.

For whether Darling Daughter walks down the aisle of the largest church in the city, or the smallest home in the village, she will be the girl of his dreams and for that her plans are now in the making.

With Dame Fashion reaching out to please the most demanding, My Lady will find that this season, as never before charm of gown, is not in the cost but in the style. Of course, the lovely traditional formal gown of long ago, and of today will always be a must in the minds of the conservative and more formal many; but the less extravagant gowns of net, tulle, or organdy are lovelier than ever.

Skirts too, may be trainless and floor length, and some effective lines are cut shorter in front than in back. And color is on the way in that Dame Fashion does not shake her head at lovely tones of palest pink or ice blue.

Cloudlike froth of sheerest veils may trail long or be cut elbow length with wee halos of orange blossoms to allover head hugging headdresses of Chantilly lace, or the ever-choice Juliet cap now of dainty lattice lace.

Above elbow length mits with cut-out fingers will be favorites, and matching the tulle of the veil or the lace of the gown are quite exquisite.

Sheer Ecstacy

And now for just sheer ecstacy, a look into the picture of our bride. A formal one, first: here is enchantment unbelievable. Long and flowing is this gown of double layers of pure white organdy over a blush of palest pink. Flattering off the shoulder decolletage finished with but a border of embroidered batiste sparkling with the tiniest of iridescent beads of white.

A peplum of embroidered organdy, frills from the wisp of a waist and dips gaily down toward the shorter-in-front skirt. But the train of same skirt trails on and on, as far as the church steps may go—or rather as far as My Lady's desire.

The flowing veil is of the same length as the train, and hangs from cap of dainty white lattice work bordered with beads of white. Short gloves of organdy, and a single strand of pearls grace Darling Daughter's throat.

"A bit too formal," you say? Then how is this picture for an informal wedding but with a formal air? Picture a gown of nylon tulle that has top of bodice and bottom of skirt appliqued in lace. The bodice, of course, is form fitting with dropped shoulders of lace.

Barely Touches

And the skirt barely touches the floor, or might be even shorter, as desired, but is full and circular, with short veil in identical style hanging lightly from a lace cap, Juliet design.

For added loveliness Darling Daughter wears a tiny bolero of lace that barely covers her softly molded shoulders. For accent, her jewels again, are but a single strand of pearls.

Try as we might to find the unusual in jewelry, one always turns back to the loveliness of pearls, that is ageless in beauty for Our Perfect Bride.

Now this second picture of enchanting loveliness is practical in that it can go on and on after the wedding to many a party and dance, and will remain choice in both style and fabric.

Early Thoughts

Along with our early thoughts for Darling Daughter, the Bride, are questions and some answers about what to do for her during this busy season of preparation and much excitement. Numerous and many will be the ideas of showers and parties, and in the search for newness comes the picture taking plan.

When the group of intimate and loving friends gather, a pal with a wee flash camera, will be the most cherished friend in years and years to come. For in Darling Daughter's album of happy memories, she will find the many quick snapshots that Friend Frances took here and there as she scooted in and out from shower to tea and back to dinner.

And a gift of an early Bride's Book is a must, for then Mother may immediately take on the duty of Madame Secretary, and as she follows Darling Daughter, she may register each gift and gesture of kindliness so that Darling Daughter can find smooth sailing as she starts, and completes her many thank-yous.

With that, and the dictates of Dame Fashion, Darling Daughter will be the Dream of the Day as she acquires that most cherished of all titles, "Mrs."

HEADDRESS—Inspired by the headdress of the Javanese, this bridal hat was styled by Fernand Aubry of Paris. Tulle forms a snug crown and ornamentation is of horsehair, satin and orange blossoms. A sheer tulle train gives an exotic effect. The gown is of lame embroidery and is the styling of Pierre Balmain.

Leather on Furniture Needs Special Care

Leather-covered furniture lends a handsome touch to your rooms, but it must receive proper care to stay that way.

It has to be protected from heat and extreme drying or dampness. At Good Housekeeping magazine's institute, leather-covered pieces are cleaned frequently with a special leather cleaner and preserver (sold in luggage shops) to keep it from drying out and cracking.

Occasionally, it is washed with neat's-foot oil soap or saddle soap to prevent soil from being ground into the leather.

A well-wrung-out soft cloth or sponge is used to apply the soap, and care is taken not to get the leather really wet. It is then dried immediately with a soft cloth and the leather preserver applied.

LAMP IDEA

It may be an old lamp, or a new one, that's penny-wise but all too plain. Give it the wallpaper treatment and it can be the one-of-a-kind special you need, to match a wall or just to add dash to the room. If the shade is only glazed, wipe it off with alcohol to help the paper adhere. Sandpaper a glossy finished wood base for the same reason. Use wheat paste, which comes dry to be mixed with water, or prepared wallpaper paste. What kind of wallpaper patterns are best for lamps? The smaller patterns with designs fairly close together, the bright little provincial prints, the finer leafy designs, traditional medallions, modern geometrics or textured effects. Marbleized and book papers are excellent for lamps and so are spatterdash papers and plaids.
